Mason & Hamlin Co.,

Gentlemen:—The piano has had as eventful a career in some ways as any in Japan, I suppose. The steamer it came on was captured and held some weeks by the Chinese. On arriving late in Japan it had to be transported over sundry railroads, and at last carted on a hand-cart 70 miles over two high mountain ranges by terribly bad roads. Since then it has passed a cold winter and hot summer, both terribly damp. In spite of that, and the fact that it has not been tuned since leaving your warerooms, it retains its pitch and tone delightfully.
Yours very truly,

Montevideo, March 9th.

Judicial announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Maude Stuart, niece of American Minister, and Dr. Dunbar of the U.S. warship Newark.

Next Friday Miss Manuela Hoffman will marry Dr. Justo Cubilo. The happy pair will make a wedding trip to the United States.

The Newark has been ordered home and will leave as soon as certain repairs shall have been made to her engines. Admiral Norton will also leave with her. She will be commanded by Captain Hoff at present of the Lancaster, while Captain Stirling, her actual Commander, will take command of the Lancaster. These orders are a disappointment to the officers and crew of the Lancaster as they expected to make only a short stay in these waters.

A masked-ball in the Pavilion was brought to an abrupt closed on Sunday morning by a man named Francia slapping the faces of a woman and a young man Manuel Dellepiani, employed in the Ministry of Finance. Francia was unknown to the persons he struck. Dellepiani pulled out a revolver and shot at him twice, the first bullet hitting a steel corset spring of another woman and the second ball striking Francia in the breast.

THE CRISIS IN ITALY.

Rudini's new Cabinet.

Resolved to continue the Campaign.

Friendly feelings with France.

Admiral Brin's Views.

Baldissera to be Reinforced.

General Arimondi with the Negus.

Enormous losses of Abyssinians.

Adigrat?

Rome, 9th—King Humbert has succeeded in altering Marquis Rudini's views on the Abyssinian campaign. Whilst accepting the post of Prime Minister Rudini declared that his private views on the expediency of withdrawing the troops from Abyssinia shall not influence the collective views of the Cabinet nor limit the sphere of operations of the troops. Simultaneously with these declarations of the Premier, General Ricotti, Minister of War, announces that both he and Rudini are agreed to lend every support to General Baldissera to pursue his campaign.

Further details telegraphed to-day from Massouah state that in the last two battles the losses of the Abyssinian army were simply enormous, so much so that no determined attack from that army is apprehended at present.

The programme of the new Government is the maintenance of the triangle formed by Massouah, Asmara and Keren—in fact a "Statu quo". With regard to the campaign in Abyssinia, although full support will be given to Baldissera, there is an inclination to come to terms with the Negus, but nothing definite is yet stated in this respect.

A "rapprochement" with France is freely spoken of in parliamentary circles addicted to the new Premier, Marquis Rudini, but not that this understanding in any way affect the actual international engagements of Italy.

The Italian papers now deny that the troops of Menelik were caught with Lebel rifles. A few days ago this was emphatically stated and both Russia and France were charged with connivance in the supply of arms to the troops of the Negus.

Nearly all the rifles seized from the Abyssinians are of the Gras system and the Negus has had these for over two years. These statements have removed much of the ill-feeling harboured until recently against France.

Admiral Brin has stated that the Government will push ahead with all vigor the campaign against the Abyssinians until some splendid victory of the Italian forces retrieve the defeats of Amba-Alagi and Amba-Garima. Telegrams have been forwarded to Baldissera promising him heavy reinforcements.

Large forces of police and troops still patrol the streets of Milan, but order has been completely restored and there are no longer any fears of fresh disturbances.

The Marquis of Rudini has not yet completed his Cabinet. In all probability Visconti Venosta will be asked to take over the portfolio of foreign affairs.

It is now known for certain that the Italian General Arimondi was wounded and captured by the Abyssinians. The Negus Menelik has sent his own surgeon to dress his wound and the General is well cared and guarded.

The Negus is much annoyed that the Italian authorities have refused to release his nephew Prince Gressa and make an exchange of prisoners. This will prevent the release of Colonel Galliano and other Italian officers.

General Baldissera has given orders to the Italian garrison to immediately evacuate Kassala, as there is every probability of Major Hidalgo cutting his way through to the main body of the Italian army.

Nothing definite is known about the fate of Adigrat, but it is feared that the Abyssinians, with the help of the artillery captured at Amba-Garima, will render all resistance on the part of Major Prestinari utterly hopeless.

LATEST.

The War Office has just received a telegram from Massauah denying that there is any truth in the report to the effect that the Italian garrison of Kassala had evacuated that fortress and was retreating on Keren.

A rumour is current that Major Salsa has been commissioned to negotiate for the evacuation of Adigrat on similar conditions to those granted to the defenders of Makallé.

The new Cabinet has not yet been altogether organized though it is definitely settled that Rudini take charge of the Home Office as well as of the Presidency of the Council, that General Ricotti be Minister of War and that Brin assume the direction of the Foreign Office. To-night all the remaining posts should be apportioned.

The fetes on the 14th inst, the birthday of King Humbert, have been suspended by Royal order. On that date a decree is to appear granting pardon to all condemned by the military tribunals.

THE CUBAN REBELLION.

Heavy Defeat of the Patriots.

General Weyler's Manifesto.

Smashing-up of the Patriots.

Opinion in New York.

Auto da Fé in America.

Reprisals in Chicago.

Spanish Meetings of Indignation.

New York, 9th—Telegrams from Havannah, from official sources, announce a crushing defeat of the patriots.

The forces of Gomez and Maceo, seven thousand strong, were attacked by the Spanish troops in the province of Matanzas and completely routed.

The Spanish loss was only three killed and nineteen wounded; that of the patriots seventy-one killed and two-hundred wounded. On Saturday night some boys in Chicago paraded a portrait of the Spanish Boy-King and burnt it in the street.

General Weyler, Commander-in-Chief of the Spanish forces in Cuba, has issued a manifesto, the terms of which have excited much surprise. The tone of the document is haughty in the extreme, laconic, and threatening. The Spanish General considers that the Cuban insurrection is at an end and that the movement will be smothered in a few days. The rebels, he says, have been defeated and routed both in the province of Habana and that of Pinar del Rio: they are fleeing to the Eastern quarters of the Island and they can no longer concentrate their forces. According to General Weyler, there are no longer any rebels: the few that remain must be classed as bandits whose only object now is plunder and murder. Meantime the Spanish Commander-in-Chief invites these bandits to lay down their arms: he gives them fifteen days to surrender and a free pardon, unless during that term they be guilty of crime, outside political offences. The insolent tenor of his document is the subject of much discussion, especially at a moment when advices from the seat of war are both confusing and conflicting.

The Cuban Revolutionary Committee in New York laugh at General Weyler's manifesto and state that the main object of the publication is to deceive the public as to the real state of affairs on the Island and to deter the United States from recognising the patriots as belligerents.

The University students in Evanstown dragged the Spanish flag through the streets and tramped on it.

A great meeting in favor of the Cuban cause was held also in Evanstown, and enthusiastic speeches were made in favor of the patriots and cheered to the echo, whilst the name of Spain was hissed and hooted. The local authorities dispersed the meeting at last.

In nearly all the cities of the United States anti-Spanish meetings have been held, but they do not display the violent passions of those held in Spain against America.

The news of these insults to the Boy-King and to the Spanish colors produced a profound sensation in Spain to-day and popular indignation is running higher than ever. Fresh troops have been sent to Valencia where the popular ebullition is greatest.

Madrid, 9th—The anti-American meetings continue all over the Peninsula. The disorders in Barcelona and Valencia continue intermittently and conflicts between the police and the mob are frequent and serious. Affairs are so critical in Valencia that the town has been placed under martial law.

LATEST.

Last night in the city of Valencia a mob broke all the windows of the American Consulate.

WEST COAST.

Rumours of War in Chile

Attacks on Minister Guerrero

Extraordinary Session of Congress

Alarms in Santiago

Valparaiso 9th.—In political circles in Santiago the most alarming rumours are current with regard to the march of the negotiations for a settlement of the boundary difficulty with Argentina.

One of the rumours rampant here is that the youth of the capital gathered in front of the residence of Minister Guerrero and made a violent hostile manifestation. The origin of this report was traced to a fly-sheet that appeared yesterday inviting the people to a meeting of protest against the half-hearted policy of the Minister of Foreign Affairs, who is supposed to view with favour the Argentine claims in the boundary negotiations.

All kinds of alarming rumours are floating about in the excited ambient, both here and in Santiago.

One of the papers published an article under the ominous black heading—WAR—stating that the Chilian Press has been silent long enough, and that the moment had arrived to speak out frankly and boldly. The Ley blames the Government, more especially the Foreign Office, for its passiveness: whilst clarion blasts come over the Andes from the Argentine encampments, whilst Argentina is making mammoth preparations for war, the Chilian Government, it says, sleeps the sleep of the just, and outrages public opinion with a policy of diplomatic intrigues. The Ley charges the Government as cowardly and pusillanimous under the circumstances, and too weak to protect the interests of the Chilian people.

Another paper announces that Argentines have seized large tracts of land in the Palena zone (Chubut) which has always been under the jurisdiction of Chile. The Chilian authorities in that territory have sent a note of complaint to the Moneda.

Another official trial of some new infernal machine is announced for to-morrow. This latest invention is supposed to work terrific effects.

The papers continue their attacks on the Italian Minister in Buenos Ayres.

The press is very indignant over the bases of negotiation that the Prensa published last week and which are considered humiliating to Chile. The Government is blamed for want of energy.

Two big fires took place in Santiago: at one moment it was feared that the flames would destroy the Law Courts.

SUNDAY'S VOTING.

Sunday's electoral effort, to complete the constitutional number of National Deputies, was, so far as this capital is concerned, another dismal failure to galvanise public opinion or to parade a republicanism that is pretty well lifeless. We live in a city of 680,000 people, according to the last published returns, yet we cannot turn out over 13,000 voters in such a vital election as that of the city's representatives in Congress. There are certainly 70,000 people in Buenos Ayres who should vote, and of this number there are 60,000 who do not appear to care one brass farthing as to what men shall represent the city in Congress. The remaining ten thousand are got together by so-called "caudillos" in the political clubs of the parishes and are a very poor expression of public opinion.

We sincerely believe that it due allowance were made for fraud and current electoral dodges, the 13,000 voters of last Sunday would dwindle down to half that number, a crushing proof of the utter indifference of the population in electoral matters. We shall not analyse the causes of this apathy of the public: we merely record the fact, to show on what a flimsy basis the political structure rests, and what we say of this capital applies with still greater force to the provinces. To suppose for one moment that the few thousand voters of last Sunday represent public opinion would be moral aberration, and to think that with this system our Congress and our Governments are formed, the fortunes of this country shaped and the people led, makes one pause and wonder that the effects are not far worse.

Successive governments have done everything in their power to induce the respectable classes to vote: to protect them from violence they for years stationed infantry and mounted police at the churches. On election days every "atrio" looked like a barracks, Mausers and Remingtons with bayonets fixed glistening in the sun, a significant trophy that seemed inseparable from our democratic contests. It was all in vain, the rowdy spirit of the voters was irrepressible, and the classes carefully avoided the polls, leaving the fate of elections to the discretion of the authorities or to the mercy of the rowdy elements.

Now that the Remingtons or the Mausers or revolvers have been removed from the voting tables, on the plea that their very sight invites violence and intimidates the free and enlightened voters, we need not wonder if the so-called electoral duties of the citizens will be more neglected than ever, and if for the sake of electoral decency, the authorities brigade the very working-men of the Custom House to replace the absent voters and make some kind of a show. We applaud to the echo the new departure adopted by the police, and the removal of deadly weapons marks a progress in our political education, but we cannot too much deplore that, whether Mauser rifles be stacked or not at the polls, such is the invincible indifference of the citizens that these parochial elections are a mere farce of republicanism.

In the midst of this electoral comedy the tragic note rises in such scenes of violence as that witnessed on Sunday in San Juan Evangelista. In the ghastly list of killed and wounded one sees a child of 8 years, and three outsiders who had nothing whatever to do with the elections or the fray! The police had no rifles, no revolvers, but the enlightened voters had, and peppered the poor fellows from behind the walls of the houses! This gruesome electoral sport is dubbed by some papers as an unfortunate, bloody incident: few have the courage to brand it as a dastardly crime, or is human life of no account when politics are in question? We are told euphoniously that our political education is deficient, but we are much afraid that that deficiency, which dates back in humanity from the beginning of the world, will continue to the end of it, unless the guilty are brought to justice and punished with the utmost severity of the law. The San Juan Evangelista row should stir up the Government and the people to action, to put an end to a tradition that blackens Argentine politics and brands it with ghastly criminal features.

THE IBERIA'S MAILS.

London, Feb. 14th.

Muswell Lodge, Tetherdown lane, Muswell-hill, was last night the scene of a terrible tragedy, the occupier, an old gentleman, Mr. Henry Smith, who lived alone, being brutally murdered, after being bound hand and foot, by burglars whom he had apparently interrupted.

Muswell Lodge is a residence standing on its own grounds, situated within a short distance of Norton Lees, the scene of the notorious burglary and attempted murder some few years ago, and Mr. Henry Smith, the occupier, about eighty years of age, has for some time past, owing to the death of his wife, lived practically in retirement. Last evening his servants left him as usual after fastening up the place, and on arriving early this morning a shocking spectacle presented itself, the house being completely ransacked and the poor old gentleman found murdered in a diabolical manner. He had apparently been dragged from his bed in his nightshirt, bound, and his head battered in. The safe was forced. No arrests have yet been made.

Inquiries support the assumption that the burglars had a most intimate knowledge of Muswell Lodge and its surroundings. To guard against the intrusion of thieves the deceased gentleman had alarm bells and man-traps fixed at various points of the grounds, which is in a secluded spot; but these appear to have been disconnected by the burglars.

Deceased's gardener was the first to discover the murder, the body being found in the kitchen. There were signs of a terrible struggle. It is supposed being awakened by the thieves, Mr went down stairs in his nightshirt, was there brutally murdered, the being shockingly mutilated and the being tightly corded.

Muswell Lodge is almost the last re- on the outskirts of Hornsey, and between Muswell Hill-road and Colney Hill-road, and is not far removed from the scene of the notorious Muswell Hill Mystery case of a few years ago. The house stands in its own extensive grounds which almost abut on Highgate Woods, and it was in the basement of this solitary domicile that the octogenarian occupant was brutally done to death, apparently after a desperate resistance.

Arton, in charge of three police-officers, left Charing Cross station this morning by the mail for Paris.

Martha Josephine Besson, forty, of Euston road, surrendered to her recognisances at the Clerkenwell Police-court today, and was charged with stealing a number of bonds and share certificates to the value of over £35,000, together with plate and furniture, the property of her husband, Adolphe Fontaine Besson. Mr. Horace Smith, after a short hearing, discharged the defendant.

New York, Thursday.

Dr. Carleton Simon, of New York, a pupil of Charsot, has stolen a march on Mr. Edison by inventing a process which has enabled him to photograph his own brain. For three years past Dr. Simon had been working quietly towards his end. Reports of Professors Röntgen's discoveries and Mr. Edison's experiments hastened his researches, and yesterday his labours were rewarded by results which, though still incomplete, were fairly satisfying. An ordinary camera with platinum plates was employed.

Dr. Simon is not yet prepared to explain his process in detail. In making a statement to an interviewer, however, he said: "The rays I use in conjunction with sound and they are electric rays so far as the light is concerned. I produce the effect by attraction of the light and propulsion through the brain substance. At the time of photographing the whole internal chamber of the brain is illuminated. My discovery is not consequent on the application of the cathode ray to photography."

Parliament was opened with the usual Ceremony. The Queen's speech is longer than usual. After the reading of the speech, the Commons withdrew, and the sitting was suspended at twenty five minutes part two o'clock.

The Lord Chancellor resumed his seat on the woolsack at three o'clock when a large number of peers took the oath and subscribed the roll, including the Duke of Argyll, the Duke of Newcastle, the Earl of Kimberley, the Duke of Fife, the Earl of Northbrook, Viscount Wolseley, and Lord Battersea. Afterwards the Prince of Wales, the Duke of York and the Duke of Connaught entered the House. They immediately proceeded to thetable and took the oath and subscribed the roll. It was not until twenty-five minutes before five o'clock that the swearing in of old peers was concluded. The House then presented a very animated appearance. On the front Ministerial bench were the Marquis of Salisbury, Viscount Cross, the Duke of Norfolk, Lord Balfour of Burleigh, the Duke of Rutland, the Earl of Limerick, the Duke of Devonshire, the Marquis of Lansdowne, and the Earl of Selborne, while on the front Opposition bench were the Earl of Rosebery, the Earl of Kimberley, Lord Herschell, the Marquis of Ripon, Lord Reay, and Lord Tweedmouth.

The peeresses' galleries were extremely well filled. The Princess of Wales, Princesses Maud and Victoria of Wales, the Duchess of York, the Duchess of Fife, and the Duchess of Connaught were amongst those present.

The following new peers took the oath and subscribed the roll:—Earl Carrington (formerly Lord Carrington) introduced by the Earl of Buckinghamshire and the Earl of Ashburnham; Viscount Peel (the late Speaker), introduced by Viscout Wolseley and Viscount Bangor; Lord James (Sir H. James) introduced by Lord Rothschild and Lord Burton; Lord Burghclere (Mr. Herbert Gardner) introduced by Lord Kensington and Lord Hawkesbury, Lord Rathmore (Mr. D. Plunket), introduced by Lord Plunket and Lord Ardilaun; Lord Pirbright (Baron H. de Worms), introduced by the Earl of Kintore; Lord Glensk (Sir A. Borthwick), introduced by Lord Rowton and Lord de Lisle; Lord Aldenham (Mr. Hucks Gibbs), introduced by Lord de Lisle and Lord Egerton of Tatton.

Brisbane, Feb 13th.

A terrible disaster occurred on the Brisbane River to-day, by which it is feared that no fewer than forty lives have been lost. While attempting to pass between the steamers Normanby and Lucinda which were anchored in mid-stream, the passenger steamer Pearl fouled the former. The river is still swollen from the recent rains, and the Pearl was carried by the current broadside on the anchor chains of the Lucinda, the force of the collision being such that she was almost cut in half, capsizing immediately and sinking in ten seconds.

The exact number number of passengers on board is unknown, but it is believed to have amounted to eighty, of whom over half are believed to have been drowned. A number of persons succeeded in climbing up by the anchor chains of the Lucinda, and others were rescued by boats, but how many were rescued by these means is not yet known.

The accident was witnessed by a large crowd gathered on the shores of the river, and, as the news of the disaster spread through the city, thousands of people looked to the scene. Many of the victims were scalded to death on the lower deck by the escaping steam. The scenes on the riverside, as the work of recovering the bodies was proceeded with, were terrible, men and women hurrying thither seeking missing relatives and sobbing and crying in a manner pitiful to witness. Up to nine o'clock this evening twenty-one bodies had been recovered. Owing to the swollen state of the river the Victoria bridge was considered in danger and had been closed to traffic, consequently the number of persons availing themselves of the steam ferry was much larger than usual.

STEAMSHIPS—NAVAL POWERS—NAVAL EFFICIENCY—SINEWS OF WAR.

(Concluded)

To the Editor of the STANDARD,

Sir,

France is deficient in ship-building power, she has a small marine and few seamen. England is supreme in vessels on the sea, prodigious in shipyard force, and has more seamen than all the world beside. Supposing the navies of England and France to be equal in puisance to begin with, the British has the power to build arm, man, and sail ten ships to each one of the French. Of the world's steam marine the percentage under the English flag is 64, while that under the Fr nch is but 6; of the tonnage of the world, 37 per cent is under the British flag, but less than 3 is under the French. Of the total tonnage of the ocean 53 per cent flies the British flag, and but 5 per cent the French. Great Britain has therefore more than ten seamen for one of France. She has more than twenty shipyards and dry docks for one of France, and mechanics in proportion, as she builds three-fourths of all the ships that sail the seas. England could destroy the French navy while she was rebuilding her own, but would be likely to break it up and disperse it, while she was establishing blockades of every French port. Not a French merchant vessel would long sail the ocean, and the navy once beaten and scattered could not be reformed and rebuilt until after peace had been made. In naval resources Great Britain is stronger than all the maritime nations combined. Her chief weakness lies in her inability to feed her population out of her own farms, and to furnish from her own products all the raw materials that sustain her factories and create her enormous trade. For hundreds of years her policy has been to make her distinguishing resource the ability to build, equip, and man ships. Shipbuilding and navigation thus fostered and developed by England, have ever been the want and weakness of France, which never pursued a steadfast policy in respect to the sea. The general policy of France has been to buy her shipping and not to build it. The policy of England has been the opposite to built and not to buy. England has sought to have new ships for every trade. France has often too much satisfied itself with second hand bargains.

In conclusion, I might remark that the Chicago Exhibition was a most wonderful affair, and which will be difficult for either England or France to surpass. The vastness and completeness in detail of the development and administration of that marvellous conception displayed great energy and ability, which justly claimed the congratulation and support of all who were interested in the growth and progress of international commerce, and with a desire to aid the authorities responsible for the success of so gigantic an undertaking, the whole world readyly responded to the invitation and placed the choicest selection of its products, inventions, and manufactures at their disposal; and doubtless, the advantages which are likely to accrue from so colossal an undertaking as the Chicago Exhibition will not only be profitable and gratifying to the American nation, but may be the means of widening the channels of distribution and bringing into closer union the great commercial markets of the world. The Fair is over. No more will human eyes behold the dream of beauty presented by the Court of Honor on gala nights. The gangs and symbols and tom-toms of Turkey, Arabia, China, Persia, Japan, and the South Sea Islands, the mournful music of Java and Ceylon will no more be heard on the "Midway Plaisance," the beautiful displays in the Manufactures, the Agricultural, the Mines, the Electrical, the Transportation, the Horticultural and Art Palaces, all have dissappeared, and nothing remaine of the World's Columbian Exposition but a memory—a dream.—On the minds of the millions who were fortunate enough to behold all the glories of the White City the scene is imprinted with letters of fire which will never be effaced. Romance and history frequently blend; but there is no record of a history than contains so many remarkable sides as does the story of the World's Fair, the history of which is being written in Chicago, and will shortly appear in twenty eightmagnificently bound volumes. In years to come the chronicle of the Exposition will be read with interest by those who have seen its wonders and profited by the manifold lessons in art, science, and achievement.

RESULTS OF THE ELECTIONS.

VICTORY OF THE NATIONAL PARTY.

DEFEAT OF THE RADICALS.

THE ROW IN THE BOCA.

WHAT DR. STRUVE SAYS.

The elections that came off on Sunday in the republic were for 42 National Deputies to Congress. The results of the voting were:—

25 to the National Party.
15 to the Union Civica Nacional.
2 to the Union Civica Radical.

The Radicals secured one seat in San Luis and another in Corrientes. The Union Civica Nacional triumphed in the Provinces of Buenos Ayres and Corrientes: the National Party won in all the other provinces: and here in this capital the coalition of Union Civica Nacional and Partido Nacional won with comparative ease.

The elections came off quietly from Jujuy down to Patagones, if we except the parish of San Juan Evangelista in this capital. Already on Saturday the police got wind of a row brewing in that quarter, and common sense should have prompted the Chief of Police to arm his men or take some precautions to avoid the shedding of blood. Unfortunately, the Chief decided to send the policemen unarmed to the "atrio" of that parish, although he had the moral certainty that the public peace would be broken.

At an early hour the Radical Scrutator withdrew, leaving the election to the mercy of the opponents. This riled the Radicals, and hostilities broke out over a disputed Radical vote. Two policemen advanced to eject the spurious voter when a volley was fired from the balcony of a house fifty yards distant. Volley followed volley before reinforcements came up with fixed bayonets. In the fray three poor policemen were shot down, also a boy of ten years of age who insisted on seeing the excitement.

The police attacked the house, forced an entrance, but seized only a few of the rioters, as they decamped over the neighbouring "azoteas." This took place at 3 p.m.

At half past three fresh disorders broke out, a large body of men having gathered in a house in Calle Brown. The police broke into the house and arrested a score of rowdies: whilst escorting them to the police-station the police were again fired on from the balconies of a house in Calle Brown, seventy yards ahead. Fortunately the police found shelter behind the large iron structure in the middle of the street. The prisoners were ordered to lie down, and a steady fire was kept up for five minutes. The police finally broke into the house, but it was deserted. In the fire five men were shot down in the street. Four of these were onlookers! Battle, an Englishman, and John Grant, a Swede, were wounded by bullets in the leg. Several men had knife wounds.

This disgraceful affair has led to wholesale arrests in the Boca, and a stringent inquiry is being made.

Our old friend Dr. Ernest Struve, the well-known physician and German Vice-Consul of Paysandú, had several narrow escapes during Sunday's disgraceful scenes in the Boca. At 2 p.m., shortly after the firing began, Doctor Struve, who lives in the Calle Brown, was begged to attend two wounded policemen in the church. He immediately went to the scene of action and found one policeman already agonizing, mortally wounded, and another slightly injured by a ball that razed the frontal bone. After dressing the wounds he went back to his house, remained there about an hour, then left on a sick-call and told his boy servant to lock all the doors as the firing was still going on in the street. During his absence the police broke into his house, on a pretext that somebody had fired from the "azotea"—we may add that there is no communication between Dr. Struve's apartments and the "azotea." The police, about 15 to 20 strong, burst open all the locked doors, charged the boy with shooting, beat him with sabres over the head, fired at random their remingtons in the rooms, upset everything, smashing furniture, and several articles are missing. The boy was borne off to the Police Station. At 5 p.m., when Dr. Struve returned home he found everything in the most frightful confusion, the walls riddled with bullets, empty cartridges knocking about the floor, the whole place looted in fact. After much difficulty he obtained the release of his boy servant from the police. He has now lodged a formal complaint against the Vandalic attack on his property, and we have no doubt that he will obtain redress. It was lucky indeed that the popular doctor was not in the house when the police fired into the rooms, as he would most probably have been killed.

DEATH OF PROFESSOR RYAN.

We regret to announce the death of this well known gentleman, who for the last forty years figured in our community as one of our most esteemed English educationists.

Professor Ryan was of Irish parentage but born in London, and came to this country early in the fifties, where he at once assumed the role of professor of English, and became so well known and so popular that soon he opened an English school in Calle Florida where some of the most prominent English merchants of to-day learned their Hic, Haec, Hoc. Mr Ryan's whole life was devoted to education. He filled the post of Professor in our University and National College, where he gained a popularity amongst the young men of the day that rivalled that of his colleague, the lamented Professor Lewis. He was the first to start a commercial school in this city, which proved such a great success, and during his long scholastic career he witnessed the development of our great educational system, and the endowment of this city with noble public schools, which rival those of some of the grandest cities in the world. In that great cause, and that educational development, Mr. Ryan played well his part, and always stood in the front rank with the reformers of that period. He was a great reader, and at heart a thorough Irishman, although mixing very little in the Irish community of Buenos Aires.

We knew him well: he had a great vein of humor, and the charm of his manner and conversation won for him a large circle of friends. He was a great favorite in native circles, and his popularity among his pupils was unbounded. His father was a medical man of note in his time in London, and his works on medicine called much attention in those days. If we are not mistaken, Dr. Ryan was the first medical man who resorted to the transfusion of blood from one person to another.

Professor Ryan will be long remembered in our midst and by none more fondly than by those who sat on the benches and listened to his teachings. We tender to the mourning family our sincere condolence in their great affliction. Peace to his ashes.

LATEST FROM JUJUY.

Santa Catalina, 27th Feb. 1896.

DEAR STANDARD:

Since my last nothing has occurred here to convulse the world. Our limits question is at present dormant and we have been troubled with no filibustering expeditions lately owing, most likely, to the fact that our worthy "comisario", on his last visit to Jujuy, brought up an old muzzle-loading rifle two metres long and with no lock on it. He was told it was a new system of the "Mauser reformado."

Carnival is over, for which we are thankful, as we can now rest in peace without being deafened by the drum thumping that goes on during that festive season. The height of the wily Indian's ambition is to get a new suit of clothes for Carnival and also a drum, with which instrument he goes careering round our small town making a most hideous row and, at the same time, a most awful ass of himself. Another section of our dense population delight in tearing at full-speed up and down the one street of the village on horse or mule back. They had a great time this Carnival, knocking down and trampling upon a poor woman—fortunately she recovered.

Naturally all work has been at a standstill, but we hope soon to start again with renewed vigour after the yearly "bust".

We are expecting the mining engineer from London soon, and I hope, ere long, to be able to announce the formation of a company in that city to work the valuable mines here.

Yours truly,

Sluice-Box.

ENGLISH CLUB, LOMAS.

A very enjoyable evening was passed at the above club on the occasion of the Smoking Concert held on Saturday last. The chair was occupied by the genial president Mr. B. W. Gardom, supported by Messrs. Bartell, Carlon, Hogg, Livock, etc., etc.

Mr. Allen, a visitor to Lomas, sang "The Laird's Fling" and "Anchored" in excellent style, and we hope to have the pleasure of hearing him again on a future occasion. Mr. Humphreys, who met with an enthusiastic reception, contributed largely to the success of the evening and sang in his usual inimitable manner "My old Duth," 'What cheer,' and several other songs the names of which have escaped us, having to respond to repeated encores, while Mr. F. Carlen scored a signal success in Arthur Roberts' latest song "She wanted something to play with."

Mr. Weight gave "Old Timber Toes" and "The Tar's Farewell" in first rate style, and Messrs. R. Romero, Farrell, Spencer, F. Jacobs, Caster, Gonsalves and Close also favored the audience with songs.

During an interval in the concert the periodicals for the current year were sold by auction. Mr. F. Coulon wielding the hammer in a manner which would have made the "gremio" green with envy: the bidding was very spirited and satisfactory prices were obtained, after which the programme was continued. The proceedings were brought to a close by votes of thanks to the chairman and the gentlemen who had so kindly contributed to the success of the occasion. "Auld Lang Syne" and the British and Argentine National Anthems being sung with due honours.

A special word of praise is due to Mr. L. G. Bentham, who filled the somewhat unthankful role of accompanist, for the able manner in which he presided at the piano and the willingness with which he met all calls upon him.

THEATRES.

Frank Brown makes his debut to-night at the San Martin. One might as well attempt to paint the lily, as sing more praises in favor of friend Frank, and if all our columns were devoted to the event, it would not help to fill the theatre more than the simple fact that Frank Brown appears to-night. The theatre will be full.

Perhaps the most important event of the season at the Comedia takes place to-night, when they will produce "El Principe Heredero." The purchase of this piece in Madrid has cost three thousand dollars, and from what we have seen at the rehearsals, it promises to be the most successful zarzuela ever produced in this City. It is very comic, the music is exceptionally good, and the piece is interpreted by the best members of the company.

We have before us the programme of the Tomba troupe, which will make its appearance at the Victoria Theatre on the 18th inst. It is something stupendous embracing as it does some forty-four artists, and fifty-one works, and the management say, that they will complete the list in a future notice. Some of the works are old favorites but have not been heard here for some time. In a few days the prices of the seats etc, will be published.

RAILWAY ITEMS.

To the Editor of the STANDARD,

Sir

Two friends and myself went into town on Satnrday evening last, and were surprised to see the ticket office closed at two minutes before the time of the train starting at the Belgrano Station, F.C.C.A., and we were obliged to pay the exorbitant price of 50 cents each for single fare. I think some altertation should be made in regard to the closing of Ticket Office before time.

Yours truly,

W. H. C.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The week opened yesterday with coats and collars off, such was the blasting heat, and even the most conventional stickler for etiquette wished that the custom in Canada of taking off one's breeches at the public reception of a Bishop were in vogue here on hot days, even without the Bishop. Sunday's elections were the topic of the day, and were denounced as about the most miserable and deplorable specimen of free and enlightened republicanism ever seen in this city. The news from Italy and Spain was not very encouraging. Rudini, the new Italian Premier, begins by renouncing his principles and consenting to carry on the war with Menelik. The haughty Dons are still "manifesting" against Uncle Sam, and, if the old chappie lose his temper there will be "snakes". The most extraordinary and absurd bit of news of the day is that the Italian Government paid Menelik five millions of francs to allow the garrison of Makalle to go free with the honours of war!! This reminds us of the "St. George's cavalry" of our French friends in reference to the battle of Tel-el-Kebir.

We are truly glad to learn that the sudden weakness experienced the other day on board the Magdalena by our eminent medical friend Dr. Colbourne was merely a passing effect of the temperature. Nevertheless, "his medical man" insists on his taking a fortnight in the camp as a set-up against his winter work, and we join his many friends in hoping that it will do him a world of good.

The Government has very properly resolved to keep open for them till they come back the posts of the 20-year-old National Guards who have to join the manœuvres. Their companions who remain behind will do their work for them, no great feat, as no Government employee in any part of the earth has ever been hurried into a premature grave by over-work. Yesterday, each regiment of the Line in the garrison had over 600 20-years N.Gs. enrolled. This looks like business.

Wah! it required all the energy of a journalist to combat the elements last night about 10 o'clock. The dust storm remineded one of what one hears of the Sahara with the only difference that one we read of, whereas the other we actually experience. After various attempts we managed to hear the horn of a tramway; but the dust rushed down our articulating organs the moment we opened our mouth to say "pare" so that we were at our wits, end to know what to do. After some 20 minutes of patient waiting, our fates blessed us with a tram the horses of whichwere suffering from the same malady as ourselves, viz—dust. Needless to say that when we arrived at our sanctum, all eyes were agape at the frightful spectacle we presented.

One more irregularity, and this time we regret to say, amongst the English Commercial section. The book-keeper of one of our best known houses, has disappeared and is very much wanted, but we understand from a reliable source, that matters will possibly be arranged satisfactorily.

Our unfortunate junior editor, who was trapped in quarantine at Martin Garcia, with Horace's last Ode to Erin in his pocket, gets out of sanitary durance vile this morning, and, with all his fellow-passengers by the Bresil, will land here at 11 a.m., from a special steam tender sent last night to fetch them.

That Italian cruiser Lombardia at Rio is a most unfortunate ship. Two more of her crew have died of yellow fever. There won't be even one left soon, if this mortality continues.

The "clangor tubarum" was distinctly heard again yesterday in the news from Chile, where they are waxing savage at having at last to say "if you please No" or if you please, Yes" to a plain question. They have their fate in their own hands, so should look to it.

The young scions of nobility in England are still getting into scrapes with pretty actresses, a form of idiocy not known to the titled youth of other countries, who never dream of making such ladies their wives, however attentive they may be to them. Miss Birdie Sutherland, of the Gaiety Theatre Dublin, has just obtained from a Judge and Jury £5000 damages from the Honble Dudley Marjoribanks, only son of Lord Tweedmouth.

An Ensenada Railway train gave an undertaker a job yesterday at the corner

The zeal of the Health authorities is indeed great, if not always praiseworthy. One of the Belgrano yellow-fever party conveyed on Sunday to the floating hospital, is now found to be suffering from a malady often observed amongst married ladies—she merely contemplates increasing the numbers of the Argentine nation!

At a level-crossing alongside the Paseo Colon, an Ensenada train yesterday smashed into pieces a cart, killed the 2 horses and seriously injured the driver.

It's all settled. The ground for the National Guard and Line Manœuvres is Cura-Malal (Curumalan). The troops will have a fine time of it there, within hail of hospitable neighbours, while they practise mimic war both on the plains and on the mountains. Should they ever have to cross the Andes, the hills of Curumalan will give them a very fair idea of the work before them.

Galli Bros. stood to us like bricks again yesterday with English papers to 15th ult. They have received "The Young Ladies' Journal" for April, which is good news for our fair readers.

The Iberia's mails flooded our table with copy yesterday. Her Majesty's speech on the opening of Parliament is unusually long. We note that Her Majesty condemned in very strong terms the Jameson invasion, and praised the wisdom and moderation of the President of the Boers.

We have received by the mail President Kruger's reply to Mr. Chamberlain, but it must stand over. The London papers by the mail say that Kruger never applied to Germany for help. The debate in the Reichstag is most important, and many of the members condemned the Emperor's telegram.

Mr. Henry J. Cust has severed his connection with the Pall Mall Gazette of London, to the surprise of the whole London editorial world. Mr. Cust has edited that paper since October 1892, when it passed from the possession of Mr. Yates Thompson into the hands of the American millionaire, Mr. Astor, who, they say, has dropped one way or the other since his connection with the London Press, the trifle (for him) of four hundred thousand pounds sterling. Sir Douglas Straight has been appointed editor of the Pall Mall in succession to Mr. Cust.

We received yesterday some papers from Aberdeen, which place has been turned fairly inside out by our friend Dr. Mackenzie Davidson, son of our old departed friend, Dr. Juan Davidson of Quilmes. Dr. Davidson's Shadow Groves have aroused intense interest in Aberdeen. We hold the Aberdeen papers in our office should any friend care to see them.

We have received a tremendously long letter from Professor Haft, of the Colegio Aleman, in reference to the tears he shed on Sunday when witnessing some of the inwardness of the working of the electoral system of his adopted country. What specially harrowed his feelings was witnessing the next thing to an "attorante" in his Sunday clothes register his vote as an "abogado"! We recommend the learned Professor not to distress himself. When he has resided here a little longer he will probably see and enjoy the fun of the thing, which he evidently does not at present. This grand new country is not cut-and-dry and enfeebled Europe, thank heaven for the same.

How the cablegrams lie. In the height of the row about Emperor William's telegram to Uncle Paul, it was wired that the officers of the 1st Royal Dragons, of which regiment Emperor William is Honorary Colonel had, publicly burned his porteait in the square of Portobello Barracks, Dublin, and that the mob applauded the act. It appears that the true story is this: In the mess room hung a big photograph, of the Emperor in the uniform of the Royal Dragoons. The photograph after dinner, was torn down by a number of the young officers and thrown into the fire.

"Dear Mr. STANDARD,

"There is a little peculiarity that you are noticed for; viz., taking to your manly bosom and claiming as Irishmen all the celebrated people of the day.

"May I take the liberty, as an Englishman, of drawing your attention to the fact that you have no rights in the new Chief of the Police as fellow-countryman His grandfather was English. The Emperors of Japan and Morocco you are welcome to, but leave us the Chief of the Police.

"Yours faithfully,

"Lionel Mortlock".

In reply to the above, a subscriber stoutly maintains that the Beazleys are either from Carlow or Tipperary. The family are noted as gentleman riders on every race-course in Ireland, and as the keenest of sportsmen. In the present generation there were four brothers, but two of them are dead. We'll lay long odds in hats that the surviving two, the Chief of Police's cousins, are at this moment either flying double-ditches in the County Dublin after the Ward Union hounds, or stone walls at the heels of that famous pack, the Galway Blazers.

The Union Internacional de las Amigas de las Jovenes is a very useful institution for young girls in humble life. In the month of February 13 girls entered the Home: viz, 6 Germans, 4 English, 2 Swiss and 1 French, and employment was found for 7.

We note that the new and rising "barrio" of Santa Catalinas is going ahead. To-day a meeting will be held at the residence of our friend Mr. Stoppani, the talented manager of the Italian Bank, to start a Sociedad de Fomento at Villa Devoto. In such hands it is sure to succeed.

The classes for the officers of the National Guard commence to-night in the National College, and we warn all the young gentlemen interested to be punctual in attendance, as it depends on their examination whether they continue to wear a sword or go back to the ranks to shoulder a rifle.

Our friend "Leo" was all wrong about the waning phase of the moon being likely to bring rain. On the contrary, the weather is drier and hotter than before. Yesterday people were simply frying in their own fat, and the consumption of beer and cocktails rose 20 per cent. The storm last night did not amount to much. "Mucho ruido, pocas nueces."

Anything more shocking than the account given by a morning colleague of the embarkation of the 37 healthy people and six patients from the infected "barrio" at Belgrano for Martin Garcia we have never read. Consigning healthy people to a Lazaretto is outrageous enough, but leaving people in a raging fever for hours on the bare ground without even an attempt at shelter from the broiling sun is an act of inhumanity that almost passes belief, and calls for some public expression of indignation. The result of this savage treatment was shown yesterday in eight fresh cases amongst the healthy people on their arrival at Martin Garcia!!!

A runaway couple were married at Gretna Green, the blacksmith demanding five guineas for his services. "How is this?" exclaimed the bridegroom. "The gentleman you last married assured me he only gave you a guinea!" "True," replied the smith, "but he was an Irishman, and I've married him five or six times, so that he's a regular customer. You I may never see again."

Mr. Rebuchon, the gay and festive Frenchman who started from Montevideo more than a month ago to walk to New York, has turned up at La Paz, in the province of Mendoza, where he arrived by train, so he seems to have liberal ideas as to the meaning of the word "walking." A French lad named Huré, 19, accompanies him.

We much regret that we are quite unable to find space for the long account sent to us of Professor Welby's lecture on music on Friday night last in the Scotch School. We have heard the lecture praised in all quarters as one of the most interesting delivered in this city for some time.

Will our Good Templar friends explain to us the difference, from their point of view, between champagne and whisky? We ask this question owing to our eye falling on the following paragraph in a New York paper:—"Temperance people will be interested to know that the practice of breaking a bottle of champagne over the bows of a warship in christening it will not be followed in the case of the new United States battleship Kentucky. Protests against the practice have frequently been made, and they were especially numerous in the case of the Maine. A magnum filled with the best product of all Kentucky's noted whiskey distilleries is to be broken over the Kentucky's bows. Every distiller in the State has been asked to contribute some of his finest product to help to make up the bottle.

Readers, do you remember Sir Horace Rumbold, who was British Minister here in 1880? He is now British Minister at the Hague, and the Dutch papers are kicking up a great row because the little Queen of Holland and her sister attended a ball given by Sir Horace, whose countrymen have attacked the Boers. Another cause of complaint against Sir Horace is a row he had with a guard in a railway train who asked him for his ticket. Sir Horace hit him full from the shoulder between the two eyes and knocked the poor guard into smithereens. The scandal nearly led to an interpellation in the Chambers, but owing to the Italian Minister, Marquis Spinola, the affair was arranged by Sir Horace stumping up one hundred pounds damages to the Railway guard. We well remember the day Sir Horace entered the STANDARD office in Calle San Martin alongside the old Bolsa, and asked us if it was possible that in this large city there was not a room with a fire-place to be found to accommodate Her Majesty's representative. We took him out to Pardo's quinta, Caballito, to have a look at the place, but we all had great difficulty in getting over the wire fence and into the house. Sir Horace afterwards lived at Belgrano on the top of the "barranca," where he gave a grand dinner to the English residents and the two Princes, the late Duke of Clarence and the Duke of York. Every one here liked Sir Horace, he was such a real jolly good fellow, sang a capital comic song, and accompanied himself on the piano.

Ultimo Testimonio recibido

Señores Agar, Cross y Cia., Buenos Aires
Muy Señores mios

Con haber introducido en esta colonia su máquina retormada MacCormick y á mas que en el dia de la fecha para que sea mas completa con la nueva aplicación á la misma máquina del Cutter Bar Frames, he recibido un perjuicio de regular consideracion y un beneficio que supera pero grandemente al perjuicio. Asi se lo manifesté verbalmente á su representante Sr. Jorge Winter. El perjuicio es que tengo muchas máquinas, segadoras de alfalfa y no sé que haré de ellas porque mis chacareros no quieren mas que MacCormick, y el beneficio es que teniendo alfalfares "sembrados espresamente con muchos graminios" todavia no habia encontrado máquina las cortara tan perfectamente como estas. Como en el año proximo cortaré mas de 2000 hectareas de alfalfa semilla y es alli donde se ven las buenas máquinas, les pediré algunas mas, segun venga el corte semilla, este año necesitaré dos. En un concurso, quisiera ver como se puede probar que haya maquina que supere á esta.

Monday, March 9th 1896.
Gold Premium.

FIRST RING 202.30%
SECOND RING..... 204.00%

The gold market ruled dull and erratic to-day. There was little life in the speculation and both bulls and bears held aloof. About four hundred thousand dollars gold changed hands for cash; the premium opened at 203.50%, rose to 204%, fell to 202%, and closed at 202.30%. A small business was done for the end of the month; the premium opened at 206%, rose to 206.50% and fell to 204%, closing rate. An equal amount was sold for the 14th, the fortnightly settlement, at more or less cash rates. Seventy thousand dollars were sold for the end of April; the premium opened at 209.50% and closed at 208%. The market closed with a weak feeling all round.

National Cedulas F were steady at 83. La Plata Cedulas were dull at 18.50.

The gold market was in a dull, apathetic mood this morning. The news of several fresh cases of yellow fever among the unfortunate Belgrano travellers in Martin Garcia was listened to with a shrug of the shoulders and with the observation—"How lucky they were all shipped off yesterday." Of some importance was the news telegraphed from Chile, where they are seriously thinking of convoking Congress to extraordinary session to settle the Limits Difficulty with Argentina. Private telegrams received to-day from Santiago report much alarm there, as people are getting convinced that Argentines are bent on waging war. At the first ring this news produced little or no impression, but there is a suspicion in the market that matters are becoming serious. Should Minister Guerrero, the Chilian Minister of Foreign Affairs, resign, as some telegrams insinuate, we shall see the fat in the fire and a critical strain in relations.

Affairs in exchange circles were very quiet to-day and but a small business reported at:—

48¼ d. on London,
5.08½-5.09 fcs. on France.
5.09½ fcs. on Belgium.
4.12½ mks. on Germany.

Paper money continued tight and in stirring demand. Paper bills were quoted hard at 8⅛ and 9% per annum. Gold bills were nominal at 7%.

Telegrams from Rio Janeiro report a slight improvement in exchange; the rate to-day was up to 8 9/16 d. In Valparaiso the rate stood at 17 9/16d.

The following is a summary of the business effected at the first ring to-day:—

$ 367,600 for cash at 303.50-304-303.80 70-303-303.80-304-303.50-30--40-30-20-303-302.80--303.302--50-70-60-70-50-40-30-302-302-30,

Mr. Hugh Latt of San Nicolas was welcomed to-day. He reports the hay business in an impossible state owing to the heavy freights, as any enterprise in this line generally means a loss, with the result that the farmers have stacks 3 or 4 years old. Owing to the different charges on various lines, hay from Belleville can be put in this market as cheap as from San Nicolas, which seems so strange that it would hardly receive credence but for coming from reliable source. This year's crop, it seems, owing to the rains is not up to the level, as regards quality, of preceding seasons.

Advices from Gualeguaychu report the drought so severe that the estancias and chacras are already in a bad way and the stock suffering from "tristeza". Short commons would make anybody "triste."

The report and balance-sheet of Baring Bros and Co, Ltd., has been received by the mail, and shews, as reported, a splendid year's working, the net profit after providing for current expenses, bad debts and contingencies being £102,690, out of which a total distribution of £95,000 (including interim dividends) has been made, carrying forward £7,630 to next account. The extraordinary feature of this business is that the ordinary shareholders get 160% dividend, as their capital of £25,000 has earned £40,000. thus:

5% First preference on £500,000 equal to £25,000.
6% Second preference on £500,000 equal to £30,000.
160% ordinary shares on £25,000 equal to £40,000.
Total dividend £95,000.

But for the pressure on our space we would publish verbatim the whole report and balance-sheet for the market to study, as such figures are by no means an every day occurrence. The principal items are:

Debtor.	£
Capital	1,025,000
Reserve Fund	100,000
Current Accounts	2,554,091
Acceptances	4,912,728
Creditor.	£
Cash in hand, at call, and notice	1,318,992
British, Indian and Colonial Government & other securities.	902,854
House property Bishopgate Street	127,000
Bills receivable	2,394,974
Customers liabilities on acceptances & on accounts current.	3,923,188

Even in this land of high interest and dividends 160% staggers the market and waives comment, whilst even if we look at it in another light and apply the total distribution to the whole capital, it would give a percentage of say 9¼, which for such a big amount is very highly respectable indeed. Such an aristocratic dividend as 160%, however, defies all figures of speech and can only be really realized by the fortunate shareholders.

We are sorry to note that the La Plata Chambers did not take kindly to the Government's bill proposing the starting of agricultural schools and nurseries in various sections of the province. These institutes in other countries have given very excellents results, as pointed out by Mr. Cilley Vernet, an authority on the subject, and though it is perfectly laudable to see the Legislature so bent on economy, the expenditure that the measure would have called forth could not be Andine. It is the principle of cheeseparing injudicioulv applied.

At a recent meeting of the Centro Industrial y Agricola held to renew the Committee of management; the following gentlemen were elected :—Titulares: Diego J. Arana, Ramon Arriaga, José Martin Micheo, Joaquin Sesé, Eugenio Spont, Tomás Bravo, Dr. Justiniano, Caminos Arevalo, Adan Gandolfi, Antonio Oberti, Cruz P. Lanuza, Eduardo Fernandez, Rafael Remaggi, Juan Tomasini, Blas Contoni, Ignacio Ferrando, Patricio P. Sasa, Leopoldo Serra, Pascual Martinez, Francisco Bertoletti, Isidro Solá Sanz, Manuel Novas. Suplentes: Angel E. Giani, Emilio de Mársico, Nicolás Verderosa, Jorge A. Susini, Juan Vucetich, Enrique Binder, Miguel Daponte, Juan D. Daval Francisco Estevez, Felipe Duran, Tomás Ramella, Eliseo M. Gimenez, Ramon Martinez, Francisco Lenzi, Herminio Machado, Enrique Roux, Manuel Rocha, Juan O. Salinas, Plácido Almoestre, Valvert E. Ringuelet, Agenor Peralta.

Messrs. Buchanan and Buchanan-Baird took leave of their numerous friends to-day to catch the New Zealand liner Tongariro at Montevideo, which will save them calling at Brazil, a visit most people are averse to at this time of the year on account of the consequences it might entail on arrival in Europe. During Mr. Buchanan-Baird's absence his clientele will be looked after by Mr. Even. On the eve of his departure Mr. Buchanan was entertained at the Royal Hotel by a party of friends. Amongst those present at the festive board were the Hon. Mr. Buchanan, Minister of the United States, Commander Guillermo Nunes of the Argentine Navy, Mr. Thomas Kincaid the well-known estanciero of the Rio Negro, Mr. Buchanan Baird, Mr. Wm. F. Mulhall, editor of the STANDARD. All expressed a hope to see Mr. Buchanan soon back in the Plate, now especially that he has vested interests in the country. Mr. Buchanan promised that he would be back in a few months to join Commander Nunes in a trip up river as far as Cuyaba in Matto Grosso. Numerous friends met at the Darsena to-day to bid farewell to our distinguished visitor who bears away with him the most pleasurable impressions of his short stay in the Plate. "A rivederci."

The Finance Minister has decided that in giving effect to Article 26 of the Customs Law the Consuls shall only exact in the manifests specification of the weight and measure of packages of general merchandize and not of that in drums or barrels, cases of wine, paint, wood, iron, etc., for which a declaration of weight and volume according to the form in which they pay wharf and storage dues will be sufficient.

The Minister of Finance has ordered payment to Messrs Otto Bemberg and Co. of

$ 17,928 "

for service on the Bonds held by the Banks of San Juan and Catamarca, from September 1895 to February 1896.

Dr. Don Gaspar Cuneo y Antola has been named Assessor of Customs at Parana.

The gold market veered round very suddenly to the bullish quarter this evening. About four hundred thousand dollars gold changed hands during the second ring, and the rise in the premium gathered fresh force with every operation. One hundred thousand dollars were sold for delivery to-morrow; the premium opened at 203¾, rose sharply, and closed at 204 ¾. One hundred thousand was also sold for the end of the month; the premium opened at 205¾ and closed at 206.50¾. Business for the 14th inst. embraced eighty thousand dollars at same rates as for to-morrow. National Cedulas F fell to 82¼ and closed at 82.60. Municipal Consols were quoted at 86¼, Internal Bonds at 75, Funded Bonds of the Floating Debt at 80, and Catalinas at 4.90.

The following is a summary of the operations effected to-day at the second ring :—

$ 137,500 March 10th at 303-303.50--303--30-20-50-80-60-50-80-304.

The Finance Minister has issued a decree naming Messrs S. Beltran and W. Monasterio Revisors of the alcohol deposits known as belonging to Mendez at the station of the Rosario railway, and the "Arevido," at the junction of the Rosario and Central Cordoba lines.

We have received the following:—

Dear Mr. Editor:

I beg to thank you for your kindness in making a note in your Exchange column of yesterday's issue but it did not quite embody what I wished to be clearly manifest, viz: That a privilege or patent has been granted me in this coutry for an "improvement" on my Patent "Rain-Water Separator."

Will you please, therefore, be good enough to rectify this in your next exchange column?

I am preparing a sample "Separator" for your office, and so soon as I am able to get about again I will call upon you.

I am
Yours faithfully
J. G. Killey.

SALES AND AUCTIONS.

We had the pleasure of seeing to-day al Tattersall's the famous prize-bull Hallrigg Swell imported by Mr. E. Ackerley and announced for sale on Friday next, and such was the interest taken in him by estancieros that we might say he was on show all day. He is certainly the grandest bull ever seen in a mart here, and Mr. Rawes, the son of the late owner, who came out with him says that he was considered by competent judges the best shorthorn bull in England, an appreciation borne out by the fact that he was never beaten, taking 11 firsts, four championship cups and a silver medal. He comes from a grand milking strain, his dam having been guaranteed to give 30 quarts of milk a day for six months, whilst his sire was one of Mr. Harris's (Calthwaite Hall, Cumberland) noted prize bulls that made their mark all over England. Hallrigg Swell left 40 cows in calf, and he has a grand constitution. Estancieros should take note that he will be sold on Friday and not miss this opportunity of seeing him before he goes to the camp. Mr. Rawes intends looking into estancia life before he returns to England, as it is his first visit to the Plate though probably not his last. He says that Argentina as a meat supplier has ruined the English grazier.

In spite of the heat and dust auctioneers had a regular field-day of it yesterday, getting through a vast deal of real estate, the principal item in this line being the fine site corner of Lima and Pavon which Messrs. Bravo and Co. and realized in 10 lots for $164,040, the total superficies being 3538 sqnare metres; thus the price pans out at an average of $46.35 per square metre, and as the property when put up for auction in December last with reserve of $18 to 25 per square yard, according to frontage, did not go off, yesterday's sale clearly points to the great recovery that is going on in real estate values generally. The frontage on Lima fetched an average of $47.45 per square metre, and frontage on Pavon $37.33. The buyer is Mrs. Josefa U. Zamberain. Same auctioneers also sold:—

PRODUCE MARKETS.

The condition of the markets is 'passive'; consignatarios have been so accustomed to fair rates that, notwithstanding all the persuasions of the artistas or exporters they are unable to change their ideas. Cereals suffered a ton on fall sides in prices, wheat was quoted this morning at 8.20 for superior "consumo" classes, but these rates were only paid by millers, who being in want of the article for the local demand refused to let exporters operate. The telegrams from London report very little animation in Argentine cereals, the sales were effected at usual prices, but of little importance; the news from France has not changed since the last quotations.

Maize is rather slow here, exporters have found out that the greater part of the bags on hand are inferior, some being damp, others already burned, the few parcels that are sound are eagarly picked up by the "consumo". New arrivals in the shape of the new maize farmers are already putting a formidable show, but their prices are for the moment a little beyond the reach of exporters. Considering the large stock on hand it would be perhaps wise to ponder before asking exorbitant prices, or else one can prepare for a speedy repetition of the previous "debacle".

Tremendous news from Roubaix—wool at 4.50 francs, "muy bien", but the rates from a manufacturing district do not affect dirty wool markets; the Antwerp markets quote B. Aires wool "type" B at 4.35 francs, from this one can see the difference between the active and the textile centres. The increased demand in the London auctions has revived the quiet spirits of the consignatarios here.

If gold should work on the same rising basis as at present, the demand and prices would take a spurt which would greatly increase transactions. The total sold this morning was not over 250,000 kilos, prices suffered no change.

It seems that a few artistas have still a few contracts to conclude and for this reason they are obliged to pay the prices asked by consignatarios. But the small qualities sold during these latter days have thrown a certain depression over all business in general. When one sees one party following the European markets and the other watching the gold premium, it is not to be wondered at that a large breach exists between the buyer and seller.

During the past week the following was exported in wool, 17,492 bales, of which 15,201 went to Europe, whereas only 2,291 were sent to the United States. The total export during the month of February was 86,475 bales.

Mr. A. W. Crundall, of Dos Hermanos, Parish, refers to a paragraph published in a late issue on the defect of tying the fleeces with twine. Mr. Crundall informs us that he has been a partizan of this theory for some time. The great defeat to-day is that estancieros tye their fleeces too tight, for which reason a certain amount of the fibre in the twine remains in the fleeces even after washing. If our large, sheep growers could be made to agree on this subject, there would be a great change in the prices paid in our foreign markets.

Large quantities of rain have fallen; in Parish the situation for the winter stage is good; the fear of drought is now over and all the farmers are looking forward to a mild winter.

Patagones and Colorado wools are weaker than usual, 5.00, 5.50 and 6.00 were the highest rates. Only very clean parcels of lamb's wool find buyers; the greater part on hand contains too much seed.

The demand for sheepskins has gone up a little, but little change is noticed in prices; those from the South are quoted at 73 and 74 cents per kilo. Skins from other districts are at a stand-still. Cowhides are fluctuating from one side to the other; the market closed weak. Special "Matadero" from the Province of Buenos Aires were sold at 9.50 and 9.80; the other classes were put down at 7.50 and 8.80 per 10 kilos. Little difference is noticed in other produce.

Messrs. Devoto, Balbiani and Co.'s "revista" gives the following resumen on the past week's operations in the markets:—

Freights down at very low rates. The arrivals of wool very important, the principal receiver being the Central. Cereals are arriving so fast that there is barely moving space in the Once.

Wool. The fall in gold is still the great drawback in the wool markets. The tiff between "consignatarios" and "artistas" as to prices still throws a damper on operations, which are carried on in a decidedly slack style; for the time of year.

The European telegrams report wool firm, and that the London colonial auctions have opened with higher rates and greater competition.

Both French and German "artistas" seem more in favous of the light fine wools without seed, cross-Lincoln and "pasto fuerte" classes are depreciated. For the last three years nothing could compete with the demand for Lincoln wools, estancieros, on the strength of the increasing demand invested in fine imported rams of that class, the change this year, however, cannot affect their spirits much as the loss they suffer in the price of their wools is amply refunded in the prices paid for their capones. The parcels from Entre Rios find easy outlet, exporters have taken this wool, as the parcels arrive here in tip-top condition. The current prices during last week were:—

Cross-Lincoln from the South from 10 to 10.30.

Cross-Lincoln from the West from 7.80 to 9.50.

"Mezclas" from 6.50 to 8.70.

" "pasto fuerte" from 6.00 to 8.20.

Saturday closed badly for cereals in Rosario, a great piece of luck for business is that there are plenty, if vessels in the port and that freights are low of it were not for this circumstance the prices in wheat, maize and linseed would be still lower. The small rise in gold infused a little more animation, but the position proved to be only nominal, the little flare only left the market in greater darkness. A few transactions in wheat were made by some millers and exporters at 7.20, but real rates are not over 7.05; the total amount sold was about 9.500 quintals. Maize is passing through a very helpless situation, no sale of importance was reported. The latest news is that owners of the new crop have already put in their appearances, but they are not able to find buyers, as their prices are a little too high. No improvement in linseed, the only transaction was one of 1,200 quintals at 9.45 placed on board. The interest for this grain is next to dead.
